

The TUR Student Scientific Group (SKN TUR) at the Institute of Management & Economics of Tourist Services at the University of Economy in Bydgoszcz was established in October 2022. From the beginning of its existence, it has been guided by the goal of developing passion and deepening knowledge about traveling while maintaining the principles of sustainable development.

The activities of SKN TUR focus on activating the student community and supporting its development in areas related to the subject of management, economy, tourism and recreation. This is implemented e.g. by organizing discussions on the development of tourism; promoting activities in line with the idea of sustainable development; organizing tourist activities, including active forms of recreation; organizing actions in the field of ecology and popularizing knowledge about ecological activities; cooperation with various organizations, associations and tourist enterprises; organizing and participating in events, conferences in the field of management, economy, tourism and recreation, active participation in projects conducted by the University; inspiring Students to various activities for the development of tourism at the local and regional level as well as taking initiatives for the professional activity of Students in tourism and recreation.

The tutor of SKN TUR is:

Rafał Śpiewak, BEng, PhD, MBA (e-mail: rafal.spiewak@byd.pl).

More information about SKN TUR can be found at:

<https://skn-tur.000webhostapp.com/>