

The student activity group "Fizjomaniak" has been reactivated to help physiotherapy students develop their passions. The purpose of the student activity group will be to organize and conduct scientific research, acquire practical skills in the field of physiotherapy, develop scientific interests and develop the ability to solve problems independently, and promote the University.